

5

A student suggests that for any positive integer n the value of the expression

$$4n^2 + 3$$

is always a prime number.

Prove that the student's statement is false by finding a counter example.

Fully justify your answer.

[3 marks]